1964 Banner Year on Farm Researching

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arkansas agriculture may make its biggest strides forward next year in the field of research.

That was the focal point of the policy statement this year of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation—an organization that represents 50,721 of the some 60,000 families in the state who make $2,500 or more a year from farm operations.

The federation asked for increased research in 23 fields, and so far as budget and time allow, will probably get it.

But a request that each research station of the University of Arkansas plan its projects to conform to the major problems of the area it serves could take several years.

The university has a wide-spread range of research now. Its centers — at Keiser and Marianna for cotton, Batesville for livestock and forestry, Stuttgart for rice, Rohwer for soybeans and cotton, Hope for fruits and truck crops and Marianna for soil testing — cover most Arkansas agricultural research needs.

In addition there are substations at Newport for beef, Clarksville for fruit, Nashville for peaches, Bald Knob for strawberries, Van Buren for vegetables and Clarksdale for pastures.

But livestock isn't grown only at Batesville and forests grow over most of the state. Cotton exists in a wide delta belt of Arkansas, and beef isn't confined to Newport. Sometimes the stations have to spread their work a little thin.

One of the more concentrated research is in the field of cotton. The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation has a cotton research station at Keiser, and the University of Arkansas has a cotton research station at Keiser.

There hasn't been much change since a year ago. A stillness descends over the harbor every Dec. 7. Even the ships—plying back and forth—seem muffled and quiet, a contrast indeed to the hell that broke loose at 7:55 a.m. on this day 22 years ago.

On this Dec. 7, one thing is different from all anniversary days since the end of World War II.

It is the flag—at half mast for the first time this Pearl Harbor Day. The hundreds of people who cross the harbor to pay a brief tribute and drop a garland of flowers on the water will remember in their prayers one more young, dead American.

It is for him—a World War II Navy lieutenant who fought in the Pacific—that the flag flies low.

The man is John Fitzgerald Kennedy, victim of an assassin's bullet two weeks ago.

The Arizona — symbol of the 1941 Japanese bombing—is the only one of nine battleships attacked still in commission.

She is considered commissioned because the crew is still aboard. That is why the flag flies above the sunken vessel.

The Navy does not hold official ceremonies to mark Pearl Harbor Day. But to the men and women on the naval base, and to those on ships in port, Dec. 7 retains its deep significance. Many travel to the memorial independently to pay tribute to the 2,300 sailors, soldiers, Marines and civilians who died in a few nightmare hours

Cotton Harvesting Almost Complete

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cotton harvesting in Arkansas is all but complete, the Agricultural Marketing Service said today, and less than 2,000 samples a day are being brought to the Little Rock classing office.

Harvesting was halted by rain when 95 per cent of the crop was in.

The Service said the quality of cotton classed during the week ended Nov. 22 was down from that of the previous reporting period. To date the Little Rock office has classed 849,766 samples, up 29,000 over the similar period last year.

Arkansas' yield this year is expected to be up by about 50,000 bales.

Mrs. Kennedy Quits White House Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy leaves the White House today in sorrow and bereavement—two weeks, almost to the hour, after her husband was slain in Dallas.

Mrs. Kennedy is taking her children from a goldfish bowl existence to the quiet life of a borrowed home on N Street in Georgetown.

She and her husband lived in the area before Sen. John F. Kennedy was elected president in 1960.

When she moved into the executive mansion on Jan. 20, 1961, Mrs. Kennedy's predecessor, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, left a parting gift of flowers in every room.

This time, the White House bears the black drapes of mourning in many of the stately salons. They will stay there until Dec. 22, when the 30-day period of national mourning ends.

Caroline Kennedy, 6, will be coming back every day for a while to attend first grade classes at the White House school, which Mrs. Kennedy founded to give her children privacy and the company of other children their age.

John Jr., 3, will have to find his play pals elsewhere now. And there will be no more visits to the big oval office where his father managed to find time for him despite the awesome burdens of the presidency.

Their new house, lent to them by Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, is a temporary residence for the three. Mrs. Kennedy will look for a permanent home in Washington.

Alcoholics Anonymous in Program

Harley Moore, Jr. of Texarkana, a representative of Alcoholics Anonymous, gave an important insight into that organization at the meeting of the Prescott District Registered Nurses on Tuesday, December 3 in the Memorial Nursing Home.

"An alcoholic has to recognize his problem and admit he needs help before any assistance can benefit him," the speaker said. "Members of A. A. are always ready to help their fellow members or their fellowmen just as they, too, were helped in the past," Moore said. He also pointed out that the organization has no dues for membership, no set rules for attendance, and the Holy Bible is the basis on which it was built.

The RN's were joined by invited guests, and cookies and coffee were served to 14 during the social hour.

Oral Contract Brings Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Breach of oral contract to build Emerald Lake Subdivision on U.S. Highway 70 about five miles east of Hot Springs is alleged in a $200,000 lawsuit filed Wednesday in Pulaski Circuit Court.

Dick D. Marshall of Perry, Okla., Robert Long of Dallas, Tex., and Bill Scott of Hot Springs filed suit against Washington Independent Life Insurance Co., Mid-Continent Corp. and Paul Chambers, named as sole stockholders in the second firm and major stockholder and president of the first.

The plaintiffs allege they were hired Jan. 20 to develop the subdivision on a 600-acre tract they were to purchase, but were dismissed from the project in May.

Christine in Guilty Plea; Gets 9 Months

By HAL R. COOPER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON (AP)—Christine Keeler, the 21-year-old prostitute who almost brought down a British government, threw herself upon the mercy of the court today and got it—a nine-month term in prison.

With her housekeeper and a girl friend, she pleaded guilty to charges of perjury and conspiracy to frame a discarded Negro lover. She could have gone to prison for seven years or more.

The stony composure of the redheaded girl friend of ex-War Minister John D. Profumo and other men in high places broke momentarily as she heard Judge Sir Anthony Hawke pronounce sentence in Old Bailey. Tears well in her eyes and her lips quivered.

Paula Hamilton-Marshall, 23, the girl friend who shares an apartment with Christine, was given a six-month sentence. Their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, was placed on Probation.

Both Paula and Christine looked sad but were composed as two policemen led them to cells to await transfer to prison.

In a moving plea for leniency, Defense Lawyer Jeremy Hutchinson described Christine as a simple country girl who became the sexual plaything of men in her early teens. He told the judge:

"Miss Keeler has said quite simply to me from the start: 'I know I have done wrong and I know I must face it.' I hope your lordship will give her credit for that."

Chicken War Definitely Not at End

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington's tit-for-tat boosting of some duties on European goods could prove to be only another skirmish rather than the heralded end of the "chicken war."

The whole field of tariff maneuvering is involved and the broader contest is about to start.

Or it could be just the innocent bystander, the American consumer, who gets hit.

There is a chance that, if the higher duties finally are allowed to stick, it could mean more of a drain on the pocketbooks of some American consumers through higher prices than a blow at the makers of French cognac, German trucks and Dutch potato starch.

That is because the French brandy producers especially are convinced that the American who fancies their product will pay the higher price resulting from the increased tariff. And French exports will continue in about the same volume.

Whether the German truck makers and Dutch producers of potato starch will find as devoted customers, or will lower prices, or seek other markets is yet to be determined. But some sort of continued skirmishing, perhaps retaliation, seems likely.

The chicken war itself started a year ago when the European Common Market boosted its tariffs on frozen chicken so high as to cut off most of the fast-growing market for American poultrymen.

The United States claimed a loss of $46 million a year. An arbitration board recently decided the loss was 26 million. Now Washington is raising tariffs on the selected European items that have an import value of relatively that sum.

France, Germany and the Netherlands, where American poultry was particularly popular, were selected as prime targets. Smaller losses are supposed to be felt by the other three members of the Common Market, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Common Market is now expected to renew its offer to cut poultry duties by 1.3 cents a pound, a sum Washington has rejected as trifling.

But more important perhaps is the squaring off of the opponents before the start in a few months of a new round of tariff negotiations. The United States had hoped for a big tariff-cutting session of the 53-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Insect-Infested Food Condemned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Federal Food and Drug Administration filed suit in U.S. District Court Thursday for confiscation of almost 2½ tons of foodstuffs in Arkansas Valley Wholesale Co. warehouse at Morrilton.

The suit said the foodstuffs—flour, pancake mix, macaroni and beans—contained insects and have been held under unsanitary conditions.

Man Held on Bad Check Suspicion

Fred Lee Cassidy, 31, white man, is in jail at Texarkana, Ark., held for investigation of alleged bad checks and robbery in Hope and Texarkana, Texarkana police told The Star today.

Cassidy spent Thursday in Texarkana, was at the Barlow Hotel in Hope Thursday night, and returned to Texarkana this morning, where he was arrested downtown. Texarkana police said their tip came from a parking-meter patrolman.

Hope information is that Cassidy on December 4 visited the Citizens National Bank and opened an account with a $200 draft on the Memphis Bank & Trust Co. No money was given him, the bank merely taking the draft for collection. Later the bank learned that the draft was refused by the Memphis bank.

Merchants were then alerted. Details of Texarkana operations were not available, but the Texarkana police this morning said Cassidy was not wanted by the FBI, as had been rumored. Two other men were said to have been with Cassidy, but their names were not connected with the Texarkana arrest.

Nixon Stock Rising for Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders are not saying if they agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater's assessment that he holds the lead in the race for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But there are reports of a move to put former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the New Hampshire primary, and Goldwater says, "The whole country is in a position of flux."

Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York have been holding their fire since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22. For the Arizona senator, who has not declared himself a candidate, and for Rockefeller, who has, this has meant a halt to political campaigning.

The curtain of silence that descended in the Goldwater camp appeared to be lifting a bit Thursday.

In his first interview since Kennedy's death, the Arizona conservative said he thinks he remains in the lead, but "I feel that you can't say for sure."

"I'm in a position now of major reassessment," Goldwater said. "My people are out all over the country asking questions. I don't think my support has changed from what it was."

Next March's New Hampshire presidential primary is the nation's first. The Granite State race traditionally has been a testing ground for presidential hopefuls.

A report that Nixon's name may be entered was printed in the Washington Star.

Through an aide, Nixon said that he is not commenting on anything right now. Nixon has said he will not be a candidate in 1964.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor "has suspended operations in New Hampshire and decided that during this period there will be no political comment or observations."

New Hampshire's Sen. Norris Cotton, who heads a committee to put Goldwater in the primary, has said he is delaying campaign plans until Goldwater indicates whether he is willing to run.

In his interview, Goldwater spoke highly of the abilities of President Johnson, a Democrat, and said it is too early to offer any comment on his performance.

"One of the reasons I suggested a moratorium was to give this man a chance," Goldwater said. "I like him. I think he has a chance to be a good president, a great president."

Sounds Like Sixth Term for Faubus

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has begun to sound like a sixth term candidate.

He has been acting like one for some time.

Faubus talked Thursday—for the first time since 1962—about what he "might" do "if" he runs again and is reelected.

And the area he chose for speculation—rural roads—would be a prime base for a 1964 platform.

Faubus said that if he becomes a sixth term governor he will "do something" about the need for an aggressive rural road construction program.

Newsman brought up rural roads at a news conference. Faubus could have discussed the problem without the reelection angle. This he volunteered and the action firmed up the general belief around the capital that he will run again.

There is no "lame duck" atmosphere in the Faubus administration. His key people—the ones any successor would replace—aren't casting around for other jobs.

Quite on the other hand, they boldly discuss programs that will require longer than the remaining year of the governor's fifth term to complete.

Nor is Faubus the weary executive, yearning for retirement, that he was two years ago when he first said he would not run and then announced at the last minute that he had changed his mind.

When he was contemplating a fifth term, Faubus was weary. He was fresh from a hard, losing push for a $60 million construction bond issue. He battled bitterly before beating the Arkansas Education Association in a disagreement on teacher retirement in the 1961 Legislature. Another losing fight for a school closing amendment was only a year in the past.

But the sailing has been mostly smooth since Faubus reasserted his supremacy in Arkansas politics by brushing aside the strongest opposition he ever faced in the 1962 Democratic primary.

The 1963 Legislature followed his suggestions to the letter. Controversy has become something to be recalled rather than coped with.

But Faubus has not spent the last year counting his accomplishments. He has been spreading the word about them in a speaking schedule worthy of a full-fledged candidate the week before election.

The challenge posed by the rural road need might be what it takes to put him in election harness for the sixth time.

There are few other fields to conquer.

Democrats Win Newton Farm Unit

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Democrats almost clinched control of the Newton County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee in an election Thursday.

Of 10 men elected as community representatives at a county convention at which the three-member county committee is named, eight are Democrats, one a Republican and one an independent.

The outgoing county committee members—all Republicans—charged that many illegal votes were cast.

J. T. Sexton of Mount Judea, Bill Clark of Ponca and D. M. Middleton of Vendor, the current county committee members, had been invited to watch the ballots counted by staff members of the state ASC office at Little Rock.

But they walked out when refused the right to challenge ballots during the counting.

A. C. Mowery Jr., state ASC executive officer, said 1,736 ballots were cast out of 2,441 that were mailed to farmers or issued by a state committee official. Last year 426 votes were cast out of 1,545 eligible voters.

Now Take Those Handbags the Ladies Carry; Boyle Calls 'em Moving Vans

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Among life's little oracles to men are those portable moving vans women carry today and call handbags.

You know what I'm talking about, don't you?

I mean those huge handbags that look like two fat alligators sewn together lengthways.

I mean those huge handbags that take up half the sidewalk as a woman strolls along and which, if they hit a man's kneecap, will snap it like a matchstick.

I mean those huge handbags in which the modern woman packs more belongings than the average pioneer mother brought along in a covered wagon to settle the Old West.

It's a funny thing about women. When they dress up fancy to go out in the evening, they tote along in their paws sequined-covered bags tiny enough to have been made from the hide of a stunted mouse.

Everything else they stuff into the pockets of their male escort—until he looks from behind like a pair of ambulant saddle bags.

But by day they limp around town by themselves, getting more bent over by these vast handbags into which they seem to have thrust everything except what they need most—a sofa to lie down and rest on.

"I need it to carry the things I simply have to have with me," a wife usually whines. But if you try to peek inside, she'll snap it shut—at the peril of snipping off your nose.

Actually there isn't much mystery about the contents.

They are a cross between a hope chest, - drugstore counter, and a despair kit. They are a kind of Pandora's junk box.

They hold mints, chewing gum, unpaid bills, vitamin pills and aspirin tablets, matchbooks, a 712-page romantic novel, lipstick, tweezers, bandages, compact, unanswered letters, photographs of loved ones, pieces of wadded facial tissue.

They hold car keys, house keys, safe deposit box keys.

They also hold one thing at the very bottom of this jangle of debris. That's a small billfold or change purse containing their ready cash.

And that's where the trouble comes in. It usually takes a woman up to 10 minutes of frantic fumbling to find this purse and pay a restaurant bill.

She's holding up the march of progress. These big handbags must be costing the nation at least 10 million manhours of lost work a month.

France and China Warm Up Relations

PARIS (AP)—A gradual change in France's aloofness toward Red China is taking shape. It appears to be developing in plan diplomatic recognition of the trade area.

"France definitely does not Red China in the foreseeable future," one source said. "Trade considerations may undergo a loosening of what has been a generally restricted attitude."

Two Chinese missions, one trade, the other technical, are in France. One has eight specialists in the field of measuring instruments and of automation. The other includes seven petroleum specialists.

What might be regarded as a tentative step in Red China's direction is a projected trade agreement with Albania. Albania, along with North Korea, is Red China's staunch ally in the dispute between the Soviet Union and Red China.

A French official recalls that France voted along with her allies recently against seating Red China in the United Nations.

Thompson Jury Out 2nd Day

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A jury deliberating the testimony of 104 witnesses, plus 120 exhibits, goes back into a locked room today to weigh the first-degree murder charge against T. Eugene Thompson.

The six men and six women met five hours Thursday night, retiring to a hotel just before 10 p.m.

Thompson, 36, a St. Paul attorney, is accused of masterminding the slaying of his wife last March 6.

Carol Thompson, 34, mother of four children, was beaten and stabbed at the family's fashionable home shortly after her husband had left for work and the children had gone to school.

The prosecution contended the motives were Thompson's love for his former secretary, Jacqueline Olesen, and the $1,055,000 in insurance he bought on his wife in 13 months preceding the slaying.

Thompson could receive life imprisonment. This could be reduced to 17 years with time off for good behavior and a parole. Minnesota does not have the death penalty.

Dist. Judge Rolf Fosscen gave the jury the choice of only two verdicts—guilty or innocent of first-degree murder.

3 Elections of Interest in England

LONDON (AP)—Britain held three special elections today to fill seats in the House of Commons.

Main attention was focused on London's Marylebone district, a Conservative stronghold. There the former Lord Hailsham, who renounced his title to return to active politics as Quintin Hogg, was running as the Tory candidate against Labor's Peter Plouviez, a 33-year-old teacher.

The other elections were in Manchester's Openshaw district, where Charles Morris was defending a safe Labor seat against Conservative and Communist opponents, and Woodbridge, on the Suffolk coast. There farmer Keith Mason was fighting to hold a Conservative seat that could swing to Labor.

May Link Oswald to Another Shot

CHICAGO (AP)—The Sun-Times said today that FBI agents were investigating the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, was the sniper who fired a rifle bullet at former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker in Dallas seven months ago.

The paper said it learned that evidence tending to link Oswald with the attempted shooting of Walker is included in an FBI report on the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22.

The Sun-Times said it learned that federal authorities had no information linking Oswald, 24, with the sniper attack on Walker before Johnson ordered the FBI into the probe of Kennedy's assassination.

The editorial repeated Soviet proposals to meet privately to discuss the quarrel and prepare the ground for a world meeting of Communist parties.

Pravda clearly indicated the warring Communist giants had made no progress in recent months toward resumption of the bilateral talks held here last summer.

The party voice also hinted the Russians are prepared for a long period of waiting confident that time will wear down the Chinese opposition.

Christmas Day Late for Him

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Christmas comes a day late this year for Mannie B. Huffstetler, 62.

The state Pardon and Parole Board said Wednesday that Huffstetler, a former life termer who has had Christmas furloughs for the past 15 years, will be paroled Dec. 26.

He was one of 82 convicts paroled Wednesday by the board, which next meets Jan. 1.

Huffstetler was sentenced in Crawford Circuit Court Dec. 20, 1953, for the murder of his brother-in-law, Henry Ellis, who was slain with a razor and butcher knife.

Oswald's Life Story Is Unfolded

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Staff Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Perhaps one day in the year 2063, a school boy will open a history book and read of the Black Friday 100 years before on which President John Fitzgerald Kennedy was assassinated.

His study will bring him to Lee Harvey Oswald, a 24-year-old malcontent, who was accused of the assassination, but was murdered before being brought to trial.

If he goes deeper into the story, he may come across the name of Mrs. Marguerite Claverie Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald, a grey-haired, 56-year-old practical nurse, is the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald.

She, too, may become the subject of history because any inquiry into the nature of her son must turn to the person who played the greatest role in shaping him. That person is Mrs. Oswald.

"Any guilt I have for making him what he was, I will accept," she says. "But this is not for the FBI says, or what any special commission or court may say. He did not have a trial. He did not have his day in court. I heard him say on television, the same as millions of others heard him, 'I did not kill anyone. I did not kill anyone. I know he never did it. I know my son.'"

The death of her son is another burden in a life littered with millstones, according to her recollection.

Life began for her in New Orleans July 19, 1907, born to Dora and John Claverie. At the age of 2½, she was left motherless.

Little is known of the 22 years following, and she evades discussing her childhood and young womanhood. This, apparently, is something she is saving—along with many other facets of her life—for a projected book. But in 1929, she became the wife of a man named Pic.

"I was with Mr. Pic two and half years," she says, referring to him in formal language.

Senator in Brazil Kills Wrong Man

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — A senator fired three shots at an opponent in Brazil's Senate chamber Wednesday and missed his target, but accidentally killed a third lawmaker.

The innocent victim was Sen. Jose Calrala, who died while undergoing surgery.

Calrala, from the western frontier state of Acre, was struck in the stomach by one bullet fired by Sen. Arnon de Melo.

Witnesses said De Melo whipped out a pistol and took aim from the speaker's platform at Sen. Silvestre Pericles. Pericles, 67, a man known for his violent temper, had said he would shoot De Melo if he rose to speak. Both are from the northeast state of Alagoas, which has a reputation for stormy politics. Pericles, a member of the Senate since 1957, had opposed the election of De Melo, a freshman.

Sen. Joao Agripino told newsmen he grabbed Pericles, who was about to return the fire, and disarmed him.

"His revolver was fully loaded and hadn't been fired," Agripino said.

Both men were placed in military custody. The Senate appointed an investigating committee.

Senate sources said the feud was personal with no bearing on national politics. De Melo is a member of the conservative Christian Democratic party. Pericles belongs to President Joao Goulart's leftist Labor party.

Calrala had not been involved in the dispute, sources said.

ed her bridge club on Tuesday night, Dec. 3, and the two players included two club guests, Mrs. Arthur Shirey and Mrs. Bill Tolleson.

Mrs. Jud Martindale was high scorer at the conclusion of play, and she also won the game prize. Mrs. George Frazier was second high. A dessert and coffee were served for refreshments.

Cora Mae, WMA, Circle Meets

The Cora Mae, WMA, Circle met in the home of Mrs. Maggie Arnett Dec. 3 at 6:30 for a pot luck supper and Christmas program.

Mrs. Mildred Ridgill gave the prayer of thanks after a beautiful meal. The group sang Christmas carols and Mrs. Truman Hill said prayer. Mrs. Fannie Bohanon brought a very inspiring devotion from Luke 2:7 entitled, "Christmas Celebration of Our Savior's Birth."

The closing prayer was by Mrs. Selma Simmons. Mrs. Simmons was presented with a new Bible from the Auxiliary. Exchange of gifts was then enjoyed by the fifteen members present.

Library to Be Memorial to Kennedy

BOSTON (AP) — The two brothers of the slain President and the head of Harvard University today opened a fund-raising drive to build a John F. Kennedy Memorial Library that will belong to "all the people."

Announcement of the plan to raise $6 million entirely by public subscription was made at a news conference by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard.

Robert Kennedy said: "The organization of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library represents the fulfillment of a cherished hope of my brother."

Pusey said Harvard has donated more than two acres of land for the library building at a site within view of Wintrop House, President Kennedy's dormitory in his Harvard undergraduate days.

Title to the land and building eventually would be turned over to the U. S. government as public property under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Archives, Pusey said.

The Harvard president said that as recently as last Oct. 21—one month and one day before the assassination—he and President Kennedy had discussed construction of the library to house state and personal papers and memorabilia.

Surveillance Lifted From Mississippi

MEMPHIS (AP)—Chancellor J. D. Williams of the University of Mississippi says the integrity of the university has been maintained through the removal Wednesday of a surveillance by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The powerful association, which ends its annual meeting today, had been scrutinizing the state-supported institutions of Mississippi since Ole Miss officials, Gov. Ross Barnett and federal marshals clashed last year over the enrollment of Negro James Meredith.

Although the surveillance was lifted, the association warned that all member institutions must resist any political interference in maintaining their integrity.

Subpoena Served on Him by Wife

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP)—State Patrolman Cal Bernard stopped off at the Mountain Home sheriff's office to work on records.

He felt a tap on his shoulder and was handed a subpoena to appear as a witness in a District Court trial. The subpoena server was his wife, an Elmore County deputy.

English Migrate to South Africa

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—More than 300 adult British migrants and 180 children sailed for South Africa Wednesday night aboard the 25,500-ton liner Empress of Britain.

It was the largest group ever to migrate from Britain to South Africa. The group included 85 men from the engineering trades, 35 construction men, 8 nurses and 5 architects.

Few of those who spoke to newsmen seemed worried by South Africa's racial troubles.

Hollywood Twist Given to Language

By CYNTHIA LOWR Y
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Film star Gloria Swanson, in the course of last weekend's NBC memoir of Cecil B. DeMille, said that in Hollywood the announcement that a person was "asking for release" from his film studio contract was a polite way of saying he had been fired.

She added that the further announcement that the person "will announce future plans" really meant that he had no job in the offing.

Miss Swanson was referring specifically to a 1931 announcement about DeMille, but the same phrases are still used—and still translated the same way.

Television has added a number of its own politely evasive phrases to this show business lexicon.

For instance, when a performer in a series has "asked for release," his time, he says, immediately is consumed with considering the potentials of numerous series—never named—in which he would play the starring role.

Comedian Gary Morton, Lucille Ball's husband, often has done the warmup for Lucy's studio audiences. But he will make his first appearance on the television program itself on Jan. 27.

Morton, a golf bug who shoots almost a champion's game, will be seen in an episode called "Lucy Takes Up Golf."

ABC's Saturday night "Jerry Lewis Show" winds up its short run on Dec. 23, and the network's new variety show starts on Jan. 4. The open date left in its Dec. 28 schedule will be filled with a tape of "The 11th Annual Deb Star Ball."

This will be another girl-watchers' picnic, because the ball features 10 young actresses, chosen for beauty and talent by a Hollywood union of the makeup men and hairdressers.

1st Thousand Home From Viet Nam

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The first contingent of 1,000 American servicemen to be withdrawn from South Viet Nam flew into Travis Air Force Base late Wednesday.

One of the 220 officers and enlisted men was airman 2.C. Hobart W. Spears of Washington, D. C.

"I can't wait to get a flight home to see my wife," he exclaimed.

Capt. Lee Collard of Dermott, Ark., said he was eager to get home to see his family. He was one of a group of airmen who flew training flights with Vietnamese.

Children Are Beside Late President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two infant children of President Kennedy who preceded him in death now lie beside their father in Arlington National Cemetery.

The bodies of the infants were flown to Washington Wednesday aboard the family plane Caroline and reinterred on either side of the late President's grave Wednesday night — presumably by decision of his widow, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

The children are Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who was born prematurely Aug. 7 and died within 40 hours, and a baby girl born dead in 1956. The boy had been buried at Brookline, Mass., and the girl at Newport, R.I.

Mrs. Kennedy and the late President's brothers, Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., and Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy, attended the brief graveside rites.

Sen. Kennedy accompanied the bodies on the flight to Washington. Mrs. Kennedy and her children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, returned to the White House Sunday night after spending Thanksgiving with other members of the Kennedy family at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The burial service was held between 8:45 and 9 p.m., long after the ceremony had closed for the night and visitors to the President's grave had departed.

Bishop Philip Hannan, auxiliary bishop of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Washington, presided. He had delivered a tribute to the President at Kennedy's funeral service Nov. 25.

Announcement of the reinterment was made by Pierre Salinger, who said he acted as a representative of the Kennedy family rather than as White House press secretary.

Salinger said that some three acres of the cemetery—which is reserved for American servicemen, their wives and their children—had been "turned over to the Kennedy family."

No Opposition to Steam Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Power & Light Co. told the Arkansas Public Service Commission Monday that it would not oppose plans by the Arkansas State Electric Cooperative Corp. to build a $13.5 million steam generating plant near Augusta.

A PSC hearing was set today on the co-op's application for permission to build the plant.

AP&L filed its notification after the commission approved a contract under which it will transmit power from the new generating plant to various electric co-operatives in the state.

It is more economical for AP&L to transmit the power on its existing lines than for the co-ops to build their own transmission lines, the firm said.

The contract calls for AP&L to transmit the power for 40 cents per kilowatt hour per month and construct a 7-mile transmission line from the plant to a main feeder line between Forrest City and Newport.

HER BIRTHDAY PLANS BLEW UP

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My birthday fell on Sunday and I planned to go for a drive or to a movie with the children and my husband. Instead, he planned to bring his parents here and spend my birthday visiting with them. This made me furious and we both wound up in a bitter quarrel. Result, no birthday.

Things have gone from bad to worse in these intervening months. My husband and I only speak when it is absolutely necessary. He still visits his parents week in and week out. When the children try to beg off going, he is angry.

Frankly, I blame my mother. She and her daughter didn't get along so the daughter's husband moved the family to California where his parents reside. After that my mother-in-law turned all her attention to us. I went often to her home but never once did my husband go. See my relatives and friends. After living so long with this problem I no longer love him.

Neither one of us believes in divorce. If we separated, we would have to sell our home and the children would suffer. Can you help me?—In Despair

Dear In Despair: Sounds as if you both were too close to the forest to see the trees. With Christmas coming up, your mother-in-law is bound to make an issue of the holidays. If you go to her home you'll be miserable and if you spend the day with your own folks you'll be damned.

What you and your husband need is not a divorce but a perspective on your mutual woes. Since your sister-in-law has evidently faced the same problem, how about explaining the situation to her and asking if you and the children might spend Christmas with her in California?

If you have no savings, ask your parents to loan you the price of the tickets. Desperate situations call for desperate measures. With your sister-in-law as ally you stand a much better chance of convincing your husband of the unfairness of his ways. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Successful Marriage."

Dear Helen: I'm 18. My parents think me too young to date. Dad vows he will run my boy friend out if he comes to see me. He is 35. What should I do?—Frantic

Dear Frantic: Eighteen is not too young to date. But no girl of 18 should tie herself down to a man of 35, which is probably what your parents instinctively oppose. If you were 35 and the man 52, I'd say take a gamble but as it is, lacking experience, the odds would be against your happiness. If your parents had seen to it that you met more boys your own age, the problem would never have arisen. Show them this column.

Dear Helen: My husband and I read your column daily. As bishop of our war (we're Mormons) he appreciates your wisdom.

I have been a teacher of primary and Sunday school for years. Among other stories I told was one about an alligator which I made up when my family was small and confined to bed with the chicken pox.

Now I do substitute teaching in public school and repeatedly the children ask me to tell them the alligator story. Since they're so enthusiastic, I would like to have it printed. How and where should I start? How much would it cost to copyright? Do I have it illustrated before submitting to a publisher?—A Teacher

Dear Teacher: Have three copies made of your manuscript. Send one to the book publisher, keep one for yourself and stow the other away as a possible spare should a magazine editor be interested. Check the Writer's Digest for a list of publishers of children's books. Be sure to address your manuscript to the editor with a brief, explanatory letter. If he accepts it, his firm will handle the copyright and engage an artist.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Slander Suit Filed for $180,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rev. James Edward Shock, 35, a Church of Christ minister, filed a $180,000 slander suit in U.S. District Court Tuesday against four members of his former congregations.
Defendants are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Poe of Pearlman, Tex., Leland Mitten and C. E. Pierce, both of Forsyth, Mo.
Shock alleged that the four spread stories that he had been arrested for assault and for being drunk and that these tales caused him to lose his position as minister of the Branson, Mo., Church of Christ.
He asked $15,000 actual and $30,000 punitive damages from each defendant and acted as his own attorney in filing the suit. He said he moved to Little Rock after leaving the Branson church.
Shock's pleading said he told members of the Branson church, before he was hired, that he had been a "teen-age delinquent" but had reformed on finding God.
"Three Army doctors in the audience rushed to the box...the wound was located and artificial respiration applied, for the patient was pulseless and his breathing was hardly evident."
Dr. Perry, who attended President Kennedy, said that shortly after he reached the president's side in the emergency room, the chief executive's heart action failed and "there was no palpable pulse beat."
"Nevertheless, he and a team of other doctors administered all the various emergency procedures in the futile attempt to save the President's life."
President Lincoln, according to Gilmore's account, "responded somewhat" to the first aid given him in the theater box, "and about fifteen minutes after the shooting he was carried to a house across the street...he was given a little brandy which he swallowed, but later attempts to give brandy were unsuccessful."
Could the best modern brain surgery have saved Lincoln's life?
A couple of years ago, Col. George J. Hayes, chief neurosurgeon of Walter Reed Army Hospital, and a close student of the Lincoln medical history, said in a lecture that even with such surgery, Lincoln would have had no better than a 50-50 chance of surviving.
"With the type of injuries he had...I don't think we (modern brain surgeons) really would have done much better..." he added.
There was another sad parallel between the lives and deaths of the two Presidents.
The chair Lincoln was sitting in when he was shot was one which had been especially placed in the theater box for him.
It was a rocking chair.
ploys would be involved. The company manufactures steel, wood and fiberglass garage doors.

Army Grim on Eve of Navy Game

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There was a grim "We will win" determination about the Army football team that moved into this City of Brotherly Love today for its 64th game with heavily-favored Navy.

"We are fighting for our lives," said tight-lipped Paul Dietzel, coach of the West Pointers. "I have never seen a bunch of boys so eager and so intent before a big game. They are really high."

The young Army coach shrugged off the 11-point odds, favoring the sensational Roger Staubach and his Annapolis cohorts. No. 2 ranked nationally and probably headed for the Cotton Bowl in Dallas if they can pull off their ninth victory in 10 games this year.

"I never went into a game I expected to lose," Dietzel said, throwing down the gauntlet to Navy's Coach Wayne Hardin.

Hardin didn't flinch. "We have a lot of respect for Army—it is a fine defensive team," he said. "But we think we are the No. 1 team in the country. We want to prove it."

The Midshipmen may get their chance Saturday. Army and Navy clash at 1:30 p.m. EST in the vast Municipal Stadium, scene of many an exciting and star-spangled thriller in the past, with 100,000 watching from the stands, millions of others from TV screens and Cotton Bowl representatives looking on from the wings.

The game will be nationally televised by CBS, starting at 1:15 p.m.

A Navy triumph is certain to bring a bid—and prompt acceptance—for the second-ranked Midships to play No. 1 and unbeaten Texas at Dallas on New Year's Day.

Few games between the two service academies have created the tensions surrounding this one, which will be staged in a somber atmosphere out of deference to the late commander-in-chief, President John F. Kennedy.

The 2,400 member Corps of Cadets and 3,700 brigade of Midshipmen will attend the game but will forego the marching between halves. The only ceremony will be a military musical concert ending with "America the Beautiful," a tribute to the late President Kennedy.

Favor Tiger to Defeat Giardello

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dick Tiger, a pressure fighter with intense pride in his role as world middleweight boxing champion, rates a solid favorite to turn back the challenge of confident Joey Giardello in their title match Saturday at Convention Hall.

When Tiger and Giardello split two decisions in 1959, they were eager young contenders for the crown claimed by both Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer. Now Tiger is the boss. Having disposed of Fullmer in three matches, he is ready to give Giardello his chance.

"If Tiger wants to fight me he has to come and get me," Giardello said during the long trailing siege. Tiger was properly upset.

"How do you like that?" The champ asked in his precise sing-song English. "The challenger is telling me how he is going to win my title. As the champion I have a lot to lose. Joey has no title to lose."

The record books show that Tiger beat Giardello, Sept. 30, 1959 in Chicago and lost a decision in a Nov. 4 return bout at Cleveland the same year.

"Joey was easier the second fight," said Tiger. "I thought I was better but I didn't get it." There was talk around town of a 2½-3½ price favoring Tiger. That would mean 3-1 man-to-man if accurate. It shapes up about like that for Tiger is strong, and durable. He never has been knocked off his feet in 63 bouts. His record is 48-12-3. At the age of 34 he appears better than ever.

Giardello, 33, is a veteran of 123 pro fights dating back to 1948. His record is 93-22-7, plus one no decision contest. Joey has been stopped three times, the last in 1958. In three starts this year he has beaten Willie Greaves, Ernie Buford and Sugar Ray Robinson. The Robinson match, June 24, was his most recent.

Eagles Are Sold for 5 Million

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boyish-looking, 36-year-old Jerry Wolman has bought the Philadelphia Eagles for $5,500,500, furthering the trend of young millionaires taking control of National Football League teams.

Subject to approval of the NFL, Wolman, a Washington contractor, will join such young owners as Art Modell of Cleveland, Dan Reeves of Los Angeles, Clint Murchison of Dallas, the Bidwill brothers of St. Louis and Clay Ford of Detroit.

Another trend is toward single ownership. The sale of the Eagles Thursday by 65 stockholders leaves only Green Bay and Minnesota as teams owned by large groups of stockholders.

"Ever since I was a kid and hitchhiked from Shenandoah, Pa. (his native town), to Philadelphia to see the Eagles play, I wanted to own this team," Wolman said.

He reportedly is worth more than $30 million made by build-

The new owner also has agreed to keep the team in Philadelphia.

Cleveland Battles Old Jinx, Detroit

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—On Sunday, Cleveland bumps up against its old jinx team, the Detroit Lions, a club the Browns never have beaten in a regular season game. The only time they whipped the Lions was in the 1954 championship game.

If the Browns can tame the Lions they should have clear sailing to at least a tie in the Eastern Conference race of the National Football League. The land for first with two games to New York Giants, tied Cleveland for first with two games to go, have a rugged final with Pittsburgh Dec. 15 after this week's clash with the Washington Redskins. Cleveland plays Washington Dec. 15.

Pittsburgh, with a chance to win it all if they can sweep their last two and Cleveland stumbles once, will be in Dallas where the Cowboys can be tough. Ask the Giants. St. Louis, one game back, must keep its guard up against Philadelphia.

Chicago will know what it has to do before it takes the field Sunday against San Francisco, the only team to top them. Green Bay, a half game back of the Bears in the Western Conference plays at Los Angeles Saturday in a nationally televised (CBS) game.

San Diego can clinch the Western crown in the American Football league by defeating Oakland and first place in the East will be the prize when Boston and Houston, tied for the lead, meet at Houston.

All-America Team Picked by the AP

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Three quarterbacks including miraculous Midshipman Roger Staubach, a gritty little man, and a part-time teacher join returnee Damon Bame on the 1963 Associated Press All-America football team.

Staubach won the Heisman Trophy as the College Player of the Year. With Saturday's game against Army remaining, he has accounted for 1,738 yards passing and running.

This was the year of the quarterback.

Jimmy Sidle, who guided once-beaten Auburn to an Orange Bowl trip, and Billy Lounsbury, Georgia Tech's "Do it yourself" exponent, were the other two quarterbacks picked on the recommendations of eight regional boards. The sportswriters and broadcasters took into account all games through Nov. 30.

Sherman Lewis, a 154-pound Michigan State sprinter, completes the backfield.

A line averaging 225 pounds features Bame, rated a better guard than a year ago when he spurred Southern California's national champions.

End Dave Parks of Texas Tech, first man picked in the National Football League draft, is paired with Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Scott Appleton, a 235-pounder who has been practicing teaching at an Austin elementary school, blocked and tackled Texas to its first perfect season in 20 years. At the other tackle is Minnesota's Carl Eller, who stood out for an unspectacular team.

Guard Bob Brown, "the Big Dauby" of Nebraska's first conference champions in 23 years, and fiery center — linebacker Luck Butkus of Rose Bowl-bound Illinois complete the squad.

Staubach, Sidle and Butkus are juniors, the rest seniors.

Staubach is just plain hard to believe. Against Michigan, for example, he completed 14 of 16 passes for 237 yards and two touchdowns, then ran 70 more. He accounted for 233 yards in Navy's only loss, the wild 32-28 setback to Southern Methodist, and on the final play was passing for an apparent winning score when a defender batted the ball away from the receiver in the end zone.

Basing the selections on all-around excellence rather than on a quarterback, fullback and two halfbacks, the team also includes Sidle and Lottridge.

The Southeastern regional Board rated Sidle slightly ahead of Lottridge and 1962 All-America George Mira, in that order, at the signal calling job. Mira, who had a better passing record this year with less help, is in the second team backfield with Baylor's Don Trull, Duke's Jay Wilkinson and Gale Sayers of Kansas.

Although a marked man who sometimes crashed into linemen 100 pounds heavier, Lewis never missed a game in three varsity seasons and always was a threat to break open a contest at any moment.

He turned in five runs of over 80 yards this season.

Parks was grabbed by the San Francisco 49ers in the NFL draft and may be used as a defensive back.

North Carolina wouldn't give Lacey a football scholarship at the outset until he earned it, which took almost no time at all.

Appleton, a middle guard on defense and weak side tackle in Texas's flip-flop offense, is a big reason the Longhorns have lost only twice since he became a varsity head knocker.

Eller capped a brilliant sea-

3 Additional Coaches Are Unemployed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's college football coaches, subjected to periodic outbursts of effigy-hanging during the season, now are having trouble hanging onto their jobs.

Three were added to the unemployed ranks Thursday, making a total of six in a four-day period.

The latest additions are Washington State's Jim Sutherland, Steve Sinko of Boston University and Ohio Wesleyan's Glenn Fraser, who had a combined total of 32 years service at their respective schools.

The first coach to lose his job was Tennessee's Jim McDonald, only two days into December—the official opening of open season on coaches. Two days later Georgia's Johnny Griffith and Billy Hildebrand of Wake Forest were asked to vacate their posts.

Only two jobs have been filled, by Douglas Dickey at Tennessee and Vince Dooley at Georgia.

No Decision on Support to Johnson

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus warmly praised President Lyndon B. Johnson's ability today but said he wants to observe how the President conducts himself in office before he decides whether to support Johnson in 1964.

"We'll have at least eight months to watch," Faubus said in a news conference. "Johnson moves fast and he gets things done. I believe enough will happen on which to base an opinion."

Faubus noted that Arkansas was "solid for Johnson" at the Democratic National Convention in 1960 and the governor personally supported the former Texas senator.

Faubus called Johnson "One of the most able men in the country."

"He knows government and his business as well as anyone who might hold a high office," Faubus said.

Faubus recalled that Johnson was an admirer of President Roosevelt and said "In this, his career parallels mine."

Faubus also said Johnson was

Thrift Can't Keep Budget From Rising

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Even thrift and frugality probably can't keep the federal budget from rising to a new high.

It's like fitting a growing child into last year's clothes.

The American economy is growing. The population shoots up. The additional number of citizens, old and young, require more of existing types of services. And the standard of services demanded increases each year. Also, the great momentum of federal programs under way can't be turned back, only held in some check by thrift and frugality.

President Johnson apparently is making a fight to trim requests of government departments for funds. Even so, the spending side of the budget is expected to range from $98 billion to $103 billion, with the odds favoring somewhere around $100 billion, a record.

Expectations for Treasury receipts, the other side of the budget, are clouded just now by two factors:

—What the Senate will do about the House-passed bill to cut federal income tax rates for individuals and corporations.

—Whether the present business upswing will continue long enough to assure increased corporate and personal incomes the Treasury can tax, at whatever rate finally decided.

In one view greater prosperity will increase federal tax collections even at lower rates. Doubtters say a tax cut could only increase the federal deficit above the $9 billion, which presently is the goal of the budget makers.

A deficit is as sure as anything can be, even if federal agencies heed the President's call for thrift and an end to waste.

It will mean a larger federal debt. But those who are undismayed at this prospect contend that the dollar size of the debt doesn't matter if the rise in the debt is at about the same percentage rate as the growth in the economy as measured by the dollar value of total production of goods and services.

The argument is that with a larger population, a growing economy, added services, everything else must increase too, including the federal budget and the federal debt.

Change of Venue in Swindle Case

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—The trial of two men accused of bribing a Glenwood man of $34,000 was ordered transferred Monday to Chicot County, where the alleged crime occurred.

Circuit Judge Bobby Steel ordered change on request of attorneys for Clyde Robert Rhoads and George F. Brown, both of Hot Springs.

Brown is accused of telling the Glenwood man that he could buy $100 bills at a 40 per cent discount from a Lake Village man who thought the money was jinxed.

Rhoads is accused of meeting the Glenwood man and Brown at Lake Village where Rhoads allegedly took the money from the Glenwood man. The money has not been recovered.

All transcripts of hearings in the case were ordered sent to Chicot County Circuit court. Glenwood is in Pike County in West Central Arkansas and Lake Village is in extreme Southeast Arkansas.
